

DELIVERING ALCOHOL THE RIGHT WAY.

Delivering alcohol makes you eligible for more offers and helps you earn extra tips on the SkipTheDishes Network.

The first step to start delivering alcohol is to confirm if you need to get certified. Each province has different rules and regulations regarding alcohol delivery and certification.

Here's a cheat sheet with some basic legal requirements for alcohol delivery:

Alberta

- You must be 18 years of age or older.
- You must have a valid ProServe Certification.
- When picking up an alcohol order, you should bring your government-issued photo ID, and ProServe Certification.
- You can obtain your ProServe Certification on the AGLC website.
- The ProServe program costs $26.25 and is valid for 5 years after completion.
- You are legally required to check the customer's government-issued ID. The name on the customer's ID must match the name on the order.
- Alcohol orders can only be delivered to residential addresses, and can never be released to customers at schools, prisons, remand centres, or businesses that also sell alcohol.
- It is illegal to deliver alcohol to a person that is visibly intoxicated or under the age of 18.
- By law, you must return undelivered alcohol to the vendor immediately.

If for any reason you can't complete an alcohol delivery, feel free to use the chat function in the Courier App for support.

When delivering alcohol, you're required to keep Skip's alcohol licence on hand (either a digital or print copy). You can find the licence on page two of this document.
